Otolaryngology-Head & Neck Surgeon

Biography

Mr Nathan Hayward is an Otolaryngology – Head and Neck Surgeon and Fellow of the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons (FRACS). Nathan has comprehensive training in all aspects of general adult and paediatric ENT Surgery. He has also completed further sub-specialty training in the surgical management of Obstructive Sleep Apnoea (OSA), Snoring and Sleep Disordered Breathing in children and adults. Nathan is one of only few surgeons in Australia to have undertaken expert training in Sleep Surgery.

Nathan completed his medical training at The University of Sydney, graduating with Honours. His following Internship in Surgical residency and a period of accredited training in General Surgery led to Nathan successfully gaining entry onto the training program for Otolaryngology – Head and Neck Surgery – rotating through major Victorian Hospitals.

Mr Hayward is an invited speaker at International and National meetings, and is author/co-author on several peer reviewed publications. Nathan is dedicated to the progress of his field through research and innovation.

Dr Hayward holds a public hospital appointment at Monash Health as a Consultant Otolaryngology – Head and Neck Surgeon and is committed to the education and guidance of training junior doctors and surgeons. Nathan sees private patients at ENT Specialists Group locations – Heidelberg, Hawthorn and the City. He operates privately at several metropolitan locations and visits regional centres regularly. Nathan consults and operates at Maryvale Private Hospital.

Nathan welcomes referrals for all ENT conditions. He is committed to providing comprehensive specialist care to his patients, and is dedicated to achieving the best outcomes possible for all.
