Doctor Highlight

Dr Daniel Habteslassie

Lung and Sleep Physician

Dr Daniel Habteslassie is part of our Medical services, a lung and sleep medicine specialist, initially drawn to medicine because of a desire to help people. He developed an interest in lung and sleep health as he saw the significant impact that respiratory and sleep issues could have on the lives of all people.

Daniel remains motivated to use his knowledge and skills to assist individuals in improving their lung health and sleep quality.

Daniel is interested in all aspects of respiratory medicine and sleep disorders. He works at Lung and Sleep in Bentleigh, visits Wonthaggi and consults at Maryvale Private Hospital. Daniel also works in the public healthcare system at Monash Health within the respiratory, sleep and general medicine departments.

On a personal level, Daniel lives in Melbourne with his wife Sita and their growing young family. They love heading outdoors on new adventures big or small. Daniel is also an avid follower of the AFL and soccer and supports Essendon and Arsenal in the premier league.
